Gazprombank (Switzerland) Ltd now offers services for private individuals

Zurich, 12 March 2021 - Gazprombank (Switzerland) Ltd continues to expand its business by offering banking services to private individuals

Gazprombank (Switzerland) Ltd ("Gazprombank"), a fully licensed Swiss financial institution, introduces a new business line designated to provide banking services for individual clients. The new offering is an addition to the existing traditional banking products and services, as well as the recently introduced cryptocurrency initiative, that are geared towards the corporate and institutional world.

Gazprombank leverages its in-depth understanding of the needs of the corporate clientele that allows for sustainable and efficient solutions. The new private banking platform suits for individuals related to the corporate clientele, making the offering particularly attractive for entrepreneurs and their families. The private banking services are, however, not limited only to individuals with an existing relationship with Gazprombank. The combination of vast expertise in global financial markets and corporate banking world, as well as explicit perception of the Russian and CIS-based aspirations position Gazprombank well to provide a wide array of tailor-made solutions.

"Private banking development is a natural step in further improvement of the clients' experience and expansion of our product offering. The unique value proposition of Gazprombank is availability of services for all types of clients that encompasses corporate banking, digital assets, as well as private banking solutions on one platform. Such a set-up offered by a licensed Swiss financial institution is highly demanded in the industry today", explains CEO Roman Abdulin.
